By: Lydia Lukidis

Did you ever hear about the octopus in a band?
His name's Pooky Pete, he's the best musician in the land.

He's the color green,
Just like a lima bean.
He's all slimy and kinda grimy,
He's gooey like jelly and also super smelly!

But...
Pooky Pete is one talented dude,
And he always seems to be in a jovial mood.
He has great rhythm and beat,
He's the funkiest octopus you'll ever meet.

Good thing he has eight long tentacles
Because he can make 8 different musicals!

He plays the trumpet really well
He's a natural, you can tell.
He also plays the guitar.
An octopus playing guitar, how bizarre!

But it doesn't stop there,
Pooky Pete has even more flair.
Look out, here he comes,
He's even banging on his drums!

Hold on now, there's still more!
I bet you've never seen this before:
This octopus plays the maracas too
Even better than me or you.

Yeah, Pooky Pete gets everyone moving
All the animals get up and start grooving
Especially the penguin and polar bear,
Who look so funny people can't help but stare!
